Breakout Session Descriptions

Bafa Bafa Cultural Simulation Game – Dr. Dennis Dunham, Executive Director, International Affairs, and Director, International Services, University of Central Oklahoma; and Mr. Marco Rodriguez, Coordinator, Centre for Global Competency, University of Central Oklahoma

Who is globally competent? The University of Central Oklahoma's Centre for Global Competency defines a globally competent person as a global explorer who has encountered a world of new possibilities and is transformed into a resilient and dynamic leader.

Globalization: The U.S. in the Year 2050 – Ambassador Kenneth Tillett, Instructor, Department of Social Sciences, Southwestern Oklahoma State University

The United States of America will examine the world as it is, and likely to be in the year 2050, as well as the role of the United States of America in the international arena between now and then.

Leadership: The C's of Social Change – Dr. Becky Barker, Director, Center for Leadership Development, Division of Student Affairs, University of Oklahoma

Set sail into the “C’s” of Social Change by focusing on a leadership model that emphasizes the need to understand self and others in an effort to create community change.

Seven Habits of Highly Effective People – Mr. Kin Thompson, Assistant Professor, Hospitality and Tourism Management, Northeastern State University

Experience an overview of one of the most popular books for personal leadership. The more complex life becomes, the more important it is to learn how to stay true to the core principles of life.

The intersection of Global Outreach with Leadership – Dr. Don Betz, President, Northeastern State University.

Drawing on his international experiences, President Betz will expand on his opening remarks by sharing with students the potential political, economic and philosophical ramifications of our changing world.

Chancellor Glen D. Johnson is the chief executive officer for the Oklahoma State System of Higher Education. He reports to the nine-member State Regents for Higher Education and his duties include oversight of academic standards at Oklahoma's colleges and universities, budget allocations, the Oklahoma Guaranteed Student Loan Program, and numerous scholarship programs. Prior to becoming chancellor, he served as president of Southeastern Oklahoma State University for 10 years, during which time enrollment increased to maximum capacity and aggressive renovations and expansions took place. He earned both his undergraduate and juris doctorate degrees from the University of Oklahoma, where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and where he later served as director of public policy and professor of law. Johnson served in the Oklahoma House of Representatives from 1982 to 1996 and was Speaker of the House from 1990 to 1996. As a legislator, Johnson was an untiring advocate for funding for secondary and higher education as well as other major initiatives benefiting the entire state of Oklahoma. Chancellor Johnson was inducted into the Oklahoma Hall of Fame in November 2006.

Regent Michael C. Turpen, a partner in the law firm of Riggs, Abney, Neal, Turpen, Orbison & Lewis, began serving a nine-year term as a State Regent last year. He earned both his bachelor's and juris doctorate degrees from The University of Tulsa. Turpen has served as Muskogee County district attorney and as attorney general for the state of Oklahoma. Continuing his interest in politics, he appears weekly on Oklahoma City NBC affiliate KFOR's award-winning public affairs show, "Flashpoint with Turpen & Humphreys." A nationally sought-after public speaker, Turpen has received numerous awards and honors, such as the National Foundation for the Improvement of Justice Award. In 1992, he was appointed by then-President Bill Clinton to the President's Advisory Council on the Arts at the Kennedy Center. Locally, Turpen serves on the boards of many civic and fine arts organizations, including the Oklahoma City National Memorial and Museum, Allied Arts, and the Lyric Theatre, where he successfully chaired a $10 million capital campaign in 2006.

Dr. Don Betz, president of Northeastern State University, Tahlequah, is well-known for his commitment to higher education and to diplomacy through his international activities. In addition to receiving degrees from the University of San Francisco and the University of Denver, Betz has completed Harvard University's Institute for Educational Management (IEM). He began his academic career at NSU and held such positions as professor of political science, vice president of university relations, and assistant to the president. He also has served as chancellor at the University of Wisconsin-River Falls, as provost and vice president for academic affairs at the University of Central Oklahoma, and as provost and vice president for academic affairs at Palmer College in Davenport, Iowa. For many years Betz has worked with the United Nations on Middle East issues and has demonstrated a passion for promoting cross-cultural understanding. This interest has led him to visit more than 80 countries. Betz has served as a member, or chair, of numerous boards and committees such as Leadership Oklahoma, the DaVinci Institute, the Northeast Oklahoma Public Facility Authority, and the Regional University System of Oklahoma Council of Presidents.

Dr. Raj Basu is vice president for academic affairs for Oklahoma State University-Tulsa, where he has responsibilities for operations, development, and promotion of all academic programs. He received his MBA from Duke University and his Ph.D. from Purdue University. Basu is widely-known for his research and teaching in the areas of leadership, employee performance, team building, and change management. In addition to his responsibilities at OSU-Tulsa, he consults with organizations in the aerospace, energy, financial services, technology, government, and non-profit sectors. Basu's research has been published in numerous professional journals, and he has received several nationally-recognized awards for outstanding teaching in graduate and undergraduate programs. A member or past member of such civic boards as Leadership Oklahoma, Tulsa CARES, the Greenwood Cultural Center and the Oldahoma Aerospace Alliance, Basu finds time to travel, read, run and hike. In December 2004 he climbed Mt. Kilimanjaro (19,350 feet), the highest peak in Africa.
